Terrebonne Parish Sheriff's Office detectives are investigating the murder of a Houma man, Sheriff Vernon Bourgeois said.

The body of Quincy Smith, 27, was found in a wooded area behind Anacin Street in Smithridge Friday morning. A neighbor located the body while walking through the area and called 911 at 10:51 a.m. Deputies arrived in the area minutes later and discovered the body of the clothed man.

The body was removed from the scene and positively identified through fingerprints as Smith. Smith was reported missing by his family to the Houma Police Department on January 3, 2011.

The cause of death is unknown at this time pending an autopsy. An autopsy is scheduled to be performed Saturday in at the Jefferson Parish Forensic Center.

If anyone has any information concerning Smith's death, please contact TPSO at 985-876-2500.
